The book is structured in three different parts. The three together compound an exhaustive travel through the life and creations of a cook called to challenge the laws and the limits of the vanguard. A book that undresses the cook, but also the person himself. An Eneko lacking workmanship; all naturality. A “good chap”, as he would say himself, who runs away from labels and who has achieved to arrive to the highest (3 Michelin stars with 35 years old) without this progressive success getting into his head. Eneko Atxa has become the international standard bearer for signature cuisine that embodies a real commitment to the local area – without impositions or a contrived discourse, a love for the land of his birth transported to your table, and a contemporary vision of culinary tradition.

Andoni Luis Aduriz is Ferran’s Adria disciple is undoubtedly one of the most influential chefs of our times. Throughout his career, he has prioritized both culinary evolution and an interdisciplinary approach. This has allowed him to cross the established borders, and become a rebel in the kitchen.

His Restaurant Mugaritz, has been recognized with 2 Michelin stars since 2006. Mugaritz has become synonymous with R+D and the word “restaurant” has ceased to exist. As Aduriz himself acknowledges “It’s something more”.

Postres Mugaritz is a unique magazine which collects the sweet path of Mugaritz since 1998 to 2017, including 56 desserts.

Fina Puigdevall owns and cooks at Les Cols, she has run this restaurant in Olot since May 1990. She likes to discard the superfluous until what remains is only the most essential humble raw materials: feeling Nature so that the landscape is an ally and a source of inspiration; using the empty space on a plate as the protagonist of a dish; the luxury of light and silence; the importance of gestures and gaze; the serenity of the surroundings; hospitality. This ideology inspired the architecture of the restaurant. Cuisine of the soul. Producing this beautiful book dedicated exclusively to gastronomy has been an exercise in critical thinking for those of us at this hundred-year-old publishing house that we are thankful for. We have internalized the ideology of Les Cols as our own. Only thus could this book have been achieved. Let yourself go. In silence. Searching for peace. From here, but with the ability to open ourselves to the world and aspire to achieve the universal through the space of this intimacy. The esplendor of Nature. The fullness of life.
